

Calling Services for Cisco Webex

Integrate Your Existing Phone Numbers with Webex

Choose Fusion Connect Calling Services to Extend the Reach of Your Webex Application

Desktop, laptop, smartphone, or tablet, on whatever device your employees use to work, they can now make and receive calls to individuals outside your organization on any Webex-enabled device.

A highly reliable connection is established between Fusion Connect cloud voice service and Webex call cloud. Incoming and outbound calls are routed over this connection, providing quick, easy, and reliable calling service to people inside and outside your organization.

Cisco Webex is a leading enterprise solution for video conferencing, online meetings, screen share, and webinars. Security is built in to the application, to protect your people, network, and data. The service can integrate with Microsoft 365 applications, Google Cloud, Box, ZenDesk, Salesforce, JIRA, and others.

Calling Services + Cisco Webex Means:

- One phone number across all Webex-enabled devices. This means no need for multiple phone numbers or juggling calls between a desk phone, computer, and mobile device.
- Seamless interactions across platforms. With the ability to call anyone, employees need not pause their work to move away from Webex to call external colleagues or customers.

- Desk phones are optional. Since calls are made through computers, businesses can achieve cost savings by scaling back their investment in phones for every desk.

Coverage and Convenience

One Provider Convenience

Fusion Connect is a Cloud Services Provider (CSP) which means that we can provide your organization with both calling service and Cisco Webex subscriptions. Simply your services by getting everything from one provider.
